

Thursday 18 June 2026

Thursday of week 11 in Ordinary Time

Midday Prayer (Sext)

Introduction (without Invitatory)

If this is the first Hour that you are reciting today, use the version with the Invitatory Psalm instead.

O God, come to our aid.

O Lord, make haste to help us.

Glory be to the Father and to the Son

and to the Holy Spirit,

as it was in the beginning,

is now, and ever shall be,

world without end.

Amen. Alleluia.

Hymn

Lord God and Maker of all things,

Creation is upheld by you.

While all must change and know decay,

You are unchanging, always new.

You are man's solace and his shield,

His Rock secure on which to build.

You are the spirit's tranquil home,
In you alone is hope fulfilled.

To God the Father and the Son
And Holy Spirit render praise:
Blest Trinity, from age to age
The strength of all our living days.

Stanbrook Abbey Hymnal

The psalms of the day are shown here. If you are reciting more than one daytime hour (Terce, Sext, None) today, use the psalms of the day at one hour and the complementary psalms at the others.

PSALMS OF THE DAY

Psalm 118 (119): 113-120 Meditating the word of the Lord in the Law

“Happy are those who hear the word of God and keep it” (Luke 11:28)

Uphold me by your promise, Lord, and I shall live.

I have no love for half-hearted men; *
my love is for your law.
You are my shelter, my shield; *
I hope in your word.

Leave me, you who do evil; *
I will keep God's command.
If you uphold me by your promise I shall live; *
let my hopes not be in vain.

Sustain me and I shall be saved *
and ever observe your commands.
You spurn all who swerve from your statutes; *
their cunning is in vain.

You throw away the wicked like dross; *
so I love your will.
I tremble before you in terror; *
I fear your decrees.

Glory be to the Father and to the Son
and to the Holy Spirit,
as it was in the beginning,
is now, and ever shall be,
world without end.

Amen.

Uphold me by your promise, Lord, and I shall live.

Psalm 78 (79)

A lamentation over Jerusalem

“If you had only understood the message of peace”
(Lk 19:42).

Come to our help, O God our saviour, and forgive us our sins.

O Gód, the nátions have inváded your lánd, †
they háve profáned your hólý témples. *
They have máde Jerúsalem a héap of rúins.
They have hánded óver the bódies of your sérvants †
as fód to féed the bírds of héaven *
and the flésh of your fáithful to the béasts of the éarth.

They have póured out blóod like wáter in Jerúsalem; *
nó one is léft to búry the déad.

Wé have becóme the táunt of our néighbours, *
the móckery and scórn of thóse who surróund us.
How lóng, O Lórd? Will you be ángry for éver; *
how lóng will your ánger búrn like fire?

Do not hólđ the gúilt of our fáthers agáinst us. †
Lét your compásson hásten to méet us; *
wé are léft in the dépths of distréss.

O Gód our sáviour, cóme to our hélp, *
cóme for the sáke of the glóry of your náme.

O Lórd our Gód, forgíve us our síns; *
réscue ús for the sáke of your náme.

Whý should the nátions say: ‘Whére is their Gód?’ †
Let us sée the nátions aróund us repáid *
with véngence for the blóod of your sérvants that was shéd!

Let the gróans of the prísoners cóme befóre you; *
let your stróng arm reprieve those condémned to díe.

But wé, your péople, the flóck of your pásture, †
will gíve you thánks for éver and éver. *
We will téll your práise from áge to áge.

Glory be to the Father and to the Son
and to the Holy Spirit,
as it was in the beginning,
is now, and ever shall be,
world without end.

Amen.

Come to our help, O God our saviour, and forgive us our sins.

Psalm 79 (80)
Lord, tend your vine

“Come, Lord Jesus!” (Rev 22:20).

God of hosts, look down from heaven, and come to visit this vine of yours.

O shépherd of Israel, héar us, *
you who léad Jóseph's flóck,
shine fóρθ from your chérubim thróne *
upon Éphraim, Bénjamin, Manásseh.
O Lórd, róuse up your míght, *
O Lórd, cóme to our hélp.

Gód of hósts, bríng us báck; *
let your fáce shine on ús and wé shall be sáved.

Lórd God of hósts, how lóng *
will you frówn on your péople's pléa?
You have féed them with téars for their bréad, *
an abúndance of téars for their drínk.
You have máde us the táunt of our néighbours, *
our énemies láugh us to scórn.

Gód of hósts, bríng us báck; *
let your fáce shine on ús and wé shall be sáved.

You bróught a víne out of Égypt; *
to plánt it you dróve out the nátions.
Befóre it you cléared the gróund; *
it took róot and spréad through the lánd.

The móuntains were cóvered with its shádw, *
the céders of Gód with its bóughs.
It strétched out its bránches to the séa, *
to the Great Ríver it strétched out its shóots.

Then whý have you bróken down its wáalls? *
It is plúcked by áll who pass bý.
It is rávaged by the bóar of the fórest, *
devóured by the béasts of the field.

God of hósts, turn agáin, we implóre, *
look dówn from héaven and sée.

Vísit this víne and protéct it, *
the víne your ríght hand has plánted.

Men have búrnt it with fire and destróyed it. *
May they pérish at the frówn of your fáce.

May your hánd be on the mán you have chósen, *
the mán you have gíven your stréngth.

And we shall néver forsáke you agáin; *
give us lífe that we may cáll upon your náme.

Gód of hósts, bríng us báck; *
let your fáce shine on ús and wé shall be sáved.

Glory be to the Father and to the Son
and to the Holy Spirit,
as it was in the beginning,
is now, and ever shall be,
world without end.

Amen.

God of hosts, look down from heaven, and come to visit this vine of yours.

OR: _____

At the daytime hours (Terce, Sext, None) when you don't choose to use the psalms of the day, use the complementary psalms instead.

COMPLEMENTARY PSALMS

Psalm 122 (123)
The Lord guards his people

“The two blind men cried out, ‘Lord, have pity on us, Son of David’” (Mt 20:30).

You, Lord, who dwell in the heavens, have mercy on us.

To you have I lifted up my eyes, *
you who dwell in the heavens;
my eyes, like the eyes of slaves *
on the hand of their lords.

Like the eyes of a servant *
on the hand of her mistress, so our eyes are on the Lord our God *
till he show us his mercy.

Have mercy on us, Lord, have mercy. *
We are filled with contempt.
Indeed all too full is our soul † with the scorn of the rich, *
with the proud man's disdain.

Glory be to the Father and to the Son
and to the Holy Spirit,
as it was in the beginning,
is now, and ever shall be,
world without end.

Amen.

~~~~~

You, Lord, who dwell in the heavens, have mercy on us.

---

Psalm 123 (124)
Our help is in the name of the Lord

“The Lord said to Paul, ‘Do not fear; for I am with you’” (Acts 18:9,10).

Our help is in the name of the Lord.

‘If the Lórd had not béen on our síde,’ *
this is Ísrael’s sóng.

‘If the Lórd had not béen on our síde *
when mén rose agáinst us, thén would they have swállowed us álíve *
when their ánger was kíndled.

‘Thén would the wáters have engúlfed us, *
the tórrent gone óver us;
óver our héad would have swépt *
the ráging wáters.’

Bléssed be the Lórd who did not gíve us *
a préy to their téeth!

Our lífe, like a bírd, has escáped *
from the snáre of the fówler.

Indéed the snáre has been bróken *
and wé have escáped.

~~~~~

Our help is in the name of the Lord, *
who made heaven and earth.

Glory be to the Father and to the Son
and to the Holy Spirit,
as it was in the beginning,
is now, and ever shall be,
world without end.

Amen.

Our help is in the name of the Lord.

Psalm 124 (125) The Lord guards his people

“Peace to the Israel of God” (Gal 6:16).

The Lord surrounds his people both now and for ever.

Those who put their trust in the Lord †
are like Mount Sion, that cannot be shaken, * that stands for ever.

Jerusalem! The mountains surround her, † so the Lord surrounds his people * both now and for ever.

For the sceptre of the wicked shall not rest * over the land of the just © 2018 Universalis. All rights reserved. * / † for fear that the hands of the just ✠ should turn to evil.

Do good, Lord, to those who are good, *
to the upright of heart;
but the crooked and those who do evil, *
drive them away!
On Israel, peace!

Glory be to the Father and to the Son
and to the Holy Spirit,
as it was in the beginning,
is now, and ever shall be,
world without end.
Amen.

The Lord surrounds his people both now and for ever.

CONCLUSION

Scripture Reading

Deuteronomy 4:7

What great nation is there that has its gods so near as the Lord our God is to us whenever we call to him?

V. The Lord is close to those who call upon him.
R. He will listen to their prayer.

Let us pray.

Almighty God,
you are all light,
in you there is no darkness.
Let your light shine upon us in all its radiance, so that we may walk gladly in the way of your commandments.
Through Christ our Lord.
Amen.

Let us praise the Lord.
— Thanks be to God.

*Copyright © 1996-2026 Universalis Publishing Limited: see universalis.com. Scripture readings from the Jerusalem Bible are published and copyright © 1966, 1967 and 1968 by Hodder & Stoughton and Doubleday, a division of Random House, Inc, and used by permission of the publishers. Text of the Psalms: Copyright © 1963, The Grail (England).
Used with permission of A.P. Watt Ltd. All rights reserved. The English translation of the psalm-prayers, antiphons and prayers in the Liturgy of the Hours © 1969, 1981, 1997, International Commission on English in the Liturgy Corporation (ICEL). All rights reserved.*

Thursday 18 June 2026

Thursday of week 11 in Ordinary Time

Afternoon Prayer (None)

Introduction (without Invitatory)

If this is the first Hour that you are reciting today, use the version with the Invitatory Psalm instead.

O God, come to our aid.

O Lord, make haste to help us.

Glory be to the Father and to the Son

and to the Holy Spirit,

as it was in the beginning,

is now, and ever shall be,

world without end.

Amen. Alleluia.

Hymn

Eternal Father, loving God,

Who made us from the dust of earth,

Transform us by the Spirit's grace,

Give value to our little worth.

Prepare us for that day of days

When Christ from heaven will come with might

To call us out of dust again,
Our bodies glorified in light.

O Godhead, here untouched, unseen,
All things created bear your trace;
The seed of glory sown in man
Will flower when we see your face.

Stanbrook Abbey Hymnal

The psalms of the day are shown here. If you are reciting more than one daytime hour (Terce, Sext, None) today, use the psalms of the day at one hour and the complementary psalms at the others.

PSALMS OF THE DAY

Psalm 118 (119): 113-120 Meditating the word of the Lord in the Law

“Happy are those who hear the word of God and keep it” (Luke 11:28)

Uphold me by your promise, Lord, and I shall live.

I have no love for half-hearted men; *
my love is for your law.

You are my shelter, my shield; *
I hope in your word.

Leave me, you who do evil; *
I will keep God's command.

If you uphold me by your promise I shall live; *
let my hopes not be in vain.

Sustain me and I shall be saved *
and ever observe your commands.

You spurn all who swerve from your statutes; *
their cunning is in vain.

You throw away the wicked like dross; *
so I love your will.

I tremble before you in terror; *
I fear your decrees.

Glory be to the Father and to the Son
and to the Holy Spirit,
as it was in the beginning,
is now, and ever shall be,
world without end.

Amen.

Uphold me by your promise, Lord, and I shall live.

Psalm 78 (79)

A lamentation over Jerusalem

“If you had only understood the message of peace”
(Lk 19:42).

Come to our help, O God our saviour, and forgive us our sins.

O Gód, the nátions have inváded your lánd, †
they háve profáned your hólý témples. *
They have máde Jerúsalem a héap of rúins.
They have hánded óver the bódies of your sérvants †
as fód to féed the bírds of héaven *
and the flésh of your fáithful to the béasts of the éarth.

They have póured out blóod like wáter in Jerúsalem; *
nó one is léft to búry the déad.

Wé have becóme the táunt of our néighbours, *
the móckery and scórn of thóse who surróund us.
How lóng, O Lórd? Will you be ángry for éver; *
how lóng will your ánger búrn like fire?

Do not hólđ the gúilt of our fáthers agáinst us. †
Lét your compásson hásten to méet us; *
wé are léft in the dépths of distréss.

O Gód our sáviour, cóme to our hélp, *
cóme for the sáke of the glóry of your náme.

O Lórd our Gód, forgíve us our síns; *
réscue ús for the sáke of your náme.

Whý should the nátions say: ‘Whére is their Gód?’ †
Let us sée the nátions aróund us repáid *
with véngence for the blóod of your sérvants that was shéd!

Let the gróans of the prísoners cóme befóre you; *
let your stróng arm reprieve those condémned to díe.

But wé, your péople, the flóck of your pásture, †
will gíve you thánks for éver and éver. *
We will téll your práise from áge to áge.

Glory be to the Father and to the Son
and to the Holy Spirit,
as it was in the beginning,
is now, and ever shall be,
world without end.

Amen.

Come to our help, O God our saviour, and forgive us our sins.

Psalm 79 (80)
Lord, tend your vine

“Come, Lord Jesus!” (Rev 22:20).

*God of hosts, look down from heaven, and come to visit this vine of
yours.*

O shépherd of Israel, héar us, *
you who léad Jóseph's flóck,
shine fóρθ from your chérubim thróne *
upon Éphraim, Bénjamin, Manásseh.
O Lórd, róuse up your míght, *
O Lórd, cóme to our hélp.

Gód of hósts, bríng us báck; *
let your fáce shine on ús and wé shall be sáved.

Lórd God of hósts, how lóng *
will you frówn on your péople's pléa?
You have féed them with téars for their bréad, *
an abúndance of téars for their drínk.
You have máde us the táunt of our néighbours, *
our énemies láugh us to scórn.

Gód of hósts, bríng us báck; *
let your fáce shine on ús and wé shall be sáved.

You bróught a víne out of Égypt; *
to plánt it you dróve out the nátions.
Befóre it you cléared the gróund; *
it took róot and spréad through the lánd.

The móuntains were cóvered with its shádw, *
the cédars of Gód with its bóughs.
It strétched out its bránches to the séa, *
to the Great Ríver it strétched out its shóots.

Then whý have you bróken down its wálls? *
It is plúcked by áll who pass bý.
It is rávaged by the bóar of the fórest, *
devóured by the béasts of the field.

God of hósts, turn agáin, we implóre, *
look dówn from héaven and sée.

Vísit this víne and protéct it, *
the víne your ríght hand has plánted.

Men have búrnt it with fire and destróyed it. *
May they pérish at the frówn of your fáce.

May your hánd be on the mán you have chósen, *
the mán you have gíven your stréngth.

And we shall néver forsáke you agáin; *
give us lífe that we may cáll upon your náme.

Gód of hósts, bríng us báck; *
let your fáce shine on ús and wé shall be sáved.

Glory be to the Father and to the Son
and to the Holy Spirit,
as it was in the beginning,
is now, and ever shall be,
world without end.

Amen.

God of hosts, look down from heaven, and come to visit this vine of yours.

OR: _____

At the daytime hours (Terce, Sext, None) when you don't choose to use the psalms of the day, use the complementary psalms instead.

COMPLEMENTARY PSALMS

Psalm 125 (126)
Gladness and hope in the Lord

“Just as you are sharing in our sufferings, so also will you share our consolations” (2 Cor 1:7).

What marvels the Lord worked for us: indeed we are glad.

When the Lórd delivered Síon from bóndage, *
it séemed like a dréam.

Thén was our móuth filled with láughter, *
on our líps there were sóngs.

The héathens themsélves said: ‘What márvels *
the Lórd worked for thém!’

What márvels the Lórd worked for ús! *
Indéed we were glád.

Delíver us, O Lórd, from our bóndage *
as stréams in dry lánd.

Thóse who are sówing in téars *
will síng when they réap.

They go óut, they go óut, full of téars, *
cárrying séed for the sówing:
they come báck, they come báck, full of sóng, *
cárrying their shéaves.

Glory be to the Father and to the Son
and to the Holy Spirit,

.

as it was in the beginning,
is now, and ever shall be,
world without end.

Amen.

What marvels the Lord worked for us: indeed we are glad.

Psalm 126 (127)
Without the Lord, we labour in vain

“You are God’s building” (1 Cor 3:9).

The Lord will build the house for us; he will watch over our city.

If the Lórd does not búild the hóuse, *
in váin do its búilders lábour;
if the Lórd does not wáitch over the cíty, *
in váin does the wáitchman keep vígil.

In váin is your éarlier rísing, *
your góing láter to rést,
you who tóil for the bréad you éat, *
when he pours gifts on his belóved while they slúmber.

Truly sóns are a gíft from the Lórd, *
a bléssing, the frúit of the wómb.
Indéed the sóns of yóuth *
are like árrows in the hánd of a wárrrior.

~ ~ ~ ~ ~

O the happiness of the man * who has filled his quiver with these arrows!
Hé will have no cause for shame *
when he disputes with his foes in the gateways.

Glory be to the Father and to the Son
and to the Holy Spirit,
as it was in the beginning,
is now, and ever shall be,
world without end.
Amen.

The Lord will build the house for us; he will watch over our city.

Psalm 127 (128)

Peaceful life in the Lord

“May the Lord bless you from Sion’, that is, from his Church” (Arnobius).

O blessed are those who fear the Lord.

O blessed are those who fear the Lord *
and walk in his ways!

By the labour of your hands you shall eat. *
You will be happy and prosper;
your wife like a fruitful vine *
in the heart of your house;

1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12

your children like shoots of the olive, *
around your table.

Indéed thús shall be bléssed *
the mán who fears the Lórd.

May the Lórd bléss you from Síon *
all the dáys of your lífe!

May you sée your chíldren's chíldren *
in a háppy Jerúsalem!

On Ísrael, péace!

Glory be to the Father and to the Son
and to the Holy Spirit,
as it was in the beginning,
is now, and ever shall be,
world without end.

Amen.

O blessed are those who fear the Lord.

CONCLUSION

Scripture Reading

Esther 10:3

The single nation, mine, is Israel, those who cried out to God and were saved. Yes, the Lord has saved his people,

1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12

the Lord has delivered us from all these evils, God has worked such signs and great wonders as have never happened among the nations.

✠. I will praise you, Lord, you have listened to my prayer.
✠. You have become my saviour.

Let us pray.

Lord, in answer to our prayer give us patience in suffering hardships after the example of your Only-Begotten Son, who lives and reigns for ever and ever.

Amen.

Let us praise the Lord.
— Thanks be to God.

Copyright © 1996-2026 Universalis Publishing Limited: see universalis.com. Scripture readings from the Jerusalem Bible are published and copyright © 1966, 1967 and 1968 by Hodder & Stoughton and Doubleday, a division of Random House, Inc, and used by permission of the publishers. Text of the Psalms: Copyright © 1963, The Grail (England). Used with permission of A.P. Watt Ltd. All rights reserved. The English translation of the psalm-prayers, antiphons and prayers in the Liturgy of the Hours © 1969, 1981, 1997, International Commission on English in the Liturgy Corporation (ICEL). All rights reserved.

Thursday 18 June 2026

Thursday of week 11 in Ordinary Time

Vespers (Evening Prayer)

Introduction (without Invitatory)

If this is the first Hour that you are reciting today, use the version with the Invitatory Psalm instead.

O God, come to our aid.

O Lord, make haste to help us.

Glory be to the Father and to the Son

and to the Holy Spirit,

as it was in the beginning,

is now, and ever shall be,

world without end.

Amen. Alleluia.

Hymn

When God had filled the earth with life

And blessed it, to increase,

Then cattle dwelt with creeping things,

And lion with lamb, at peace.

He gave them vast, untrodden lands,

With plants to be their food;

Then God saw all that he had made
And found it very good.

Praise God the Father of all life,
His Son and Spirit blest,
By whom creation lives and moves,
In whom it comes to rest.

Stanbrook Abbey Hymnal

Psalm 131 (132):1-10 God's promise to the house of David

“The Lord God will give him the throne of David his father” (Lk 1:32).

*Your faithful shall ring out their joy as they enter your dwelling-place,
Lord.*

O Lórd, remémber Dávid *
and áll the many hárdships he endúred,
the óath he swóre to the Lórd, *
his vów to the Stróng One of Jácob.

‘I will not énter the hóuse where I líve *
nor gó to the béd where I rést.
I will gíve no sléep to my éyes, *
to my éyelids I will gíve no slúmber till I find a place for the Lórd, *

a dwelling for the Stróng One of Jácob.'

At Éphrata we héard of the árkh; *
we fóund it in the pláins of Yéarim.
'Let us gó to the place of his dwelling; *
let us gó to knéel at his fóotstool.'

Go up, Lórd, to the place of your rést, * yóu and the árkh of your stréngth.
Your priésts shall be clóthed with hóliness; *
your fáithful shall ríng out their jóy.
For the sáke of Dávid your sérvant *
dó not rejéct your anóinted.

Glory be to the Father and to the Son
and to the Holy Spirit,
as it was in the beginning,
is now, and ever shall be,
world without end.

Amen.

*Your faithful shall ring out their joy as they enter your dwelling-place,
Lord.*

Psalm 131 (132):11-18

The Lord has chosen Sion as his dwelling-place.

The Lórd swore an óath to Dávid; *
he will not go báck on his wórd:

‘A s6n, the frúit of your b6dy, *
will I s6t up6n your thr6ne.

‘If they k6ep my c6venant in trúth *
and my láws that Í have táught them, their s6ns áls6 shall rúle *
on your thr6ne from áge to áge.’

For the L6rd has ch6sen S6on; *
he has des6red it f6r his dw6lling: ‘Thís is my r6sting-place for éver; *
h6re have I ch6sen to live.

‘I will gr6atly bl6ss her pr6duce, *
I will fill her p6or with br6ad.
I will cl6the her pri6ests with salvátion * and her fáithful shall r6ng out their j6y.

‘Th6re David’s st6ck will fl6wer; *
I will prepáre a lámp for my an6ointed.
I will c6ver his énemies with sháme *
but on hím my cr6wn shall sh6ine.’

Glory be to the Father and to the Son
and to the Holy Spirit,
as it was in the beginning,
is now, and ever shall be,
world without end.

Amen.

The Lord has chosen Sion as his dwelling-place.

The Judgement

The Lord has given him power and honour and empire, and all peoples will serve him.

We give thanks to you, Lord God Almighty, * who are and who were,
that you have taken your great power *
and begun to reign.

The nations raged, *
but your wrath came,
and the time for the dead to be judged, *
for rewarding your servants, the prophets and saints,
and those who fear your name, *
both small and great.

Now the salvation and the power † and the kingdom of our God * and the authority of his Christ have come,
for the accuser of our brethren has been thrown down, *
who accuses them day and night before our God.

And they have conquered him *
by the blood of the Lamb and by the word of their testimony, *
for they loved not their lives even unto death.
Rejoice, then, O heaven, *
and you that dwell therein.

Glory be to the Father and to the Son
and to the Holy Spirit,
as it was in the beginning,
is now, and ever shall be,
world without end.

Amen.

The Lord has given him power and honour and empire, and all peoples will serve him.

Scripture Reading

1 Peter 3:8-9

You should all agree among yourselves and be sympathetic; love the brothers, have compassion and be self-effacing. Never pay back one wrong with another, or an angry word with another one; instead, pay back with a blessing. That is what you are called to do, so that you inherit a blessing yourself.

Short Responsory

The Lord fed us with finest wheat.

— The Lord fed us with finest wheat.

He filled us with honey from the rock.

— The Lord fed us with finest wheat.

Glory be to the Father and to the Son and to the Holy Spirit.

— The Lord fed us with finest wheat.

Canticle

Magnificat

My soul rejoices in the Lord

The Lord brought down the mighty from their seats, and raised up the lowly.

My sóul glórífies the Lórd, *
my spírit rejóices in Gód, my Sáviour.
He lóoks on his sérvant in her lówliness; *
hencefóρθ all áges will cáll me bléssed.

The Almíghty works márvels for mé. *
Hóly his náme!
His mércy is from áge to áge, *
on thóse who féar him.

He púts forth his árm in stréngth *
and scátters the proud-héarted.
He cásts the míghty from their thrónes *
and ráises the lówly.

He fills the stárving with good thíngs, *
sends the rích away émpthy.

He protécts Ísrael, his sérvant, *
remémbering his mércy,

-

the mércy prómised to our fǎthers, * to Ábrahám and his sóns for éver.

Glory be to the Father and to the Son
and to the Holy Spirit,
as it was in the beginning,
is now, and ever shall be,
world without end.

Amen.

The Lord brought down the mighty from their seats, and raised up the lowly.

Prayers and intercessions

Christ is the high priest of his people: it is in him that we come together to make our prayer to the Father of us all.

— Father, put new hearts within us.

We thank you for calling us into the Church:
bless us with constant faith, and make it a source of life for others.

— Father, put new hearts within us.

Lord, bless N., our Pope:
we pray that his faith may not fail, and that he may strengthen his brothers.

— Father, put new hearts within us.

— . . .

Turn sinners back to you:

grant us a humble and contrite heart.

— Father, put new hearts within us.

Your Son knew what it was to be excluded from his homeland.

Be mindful of those who must live far from their family and country.

— Father, put new hearts within us.

Give eternal rest to the dead:

bring the whole Church together in heaven.

— Father, put new hearts within us.

Our Father, who art in heaven,
hallowed be thy name.

Thy kingdom come.

Thy will be done on earth, as it is in heaven.

Give us this day our daily bread,

and forgive us our trespasses,

as we forgive those who trespass against us,

and lead us not into temptation,

but deliver us from evil.

We offer you, Lord, our thanksgiving
at the close of this day.

In your mercy, forgive the faults we have committed through human frailty.

Through our Lord Jesus Christ, your Son, who lives and reigns with you in the unity of the Holy Spirit,

God, for ever and ever.

Amen.

The Lord bless us, and keep us from all evil, and bring us to everlasting life.

Amen.

*Copyright © 1996-2026 Universalis Publishing Limited: see universalis.com. Scripture readings from the Jerusalem Bible are published and copyright © 1966, 1967 and 1968 by Hodder & Stoughton and Doubleday, a division of Random House, Inc, and used by permission of the publishers. Text of the Psalms: Copyright © 1963, The Grail (England).
Used with permission of A.P. Watt Ltd. All rights reserved. The English translation of the psalm-prayers, antiphons and prayers in the Liturgy of the Hours © 1969, 1981, 1997, International Commission on English in the Liturgy Corporation (ICEL). All rights reserved.*