Midday Prayer (Sext)

Introduction (without Invitatory)

If this is the first Hour that you are reciting today, use the version with the Invitatory Psalm instead.

O God, come to our aid.

O Lord, make haste to help us.

Glory be to the Father and to the Son

and to the Holy Spirit,

as it was in the beginning,

is now, and ever shall be,

world without end.

Amen. Alleluia.

Hymn

Lord God and Maker of all things,

Creation is upheld by you.

While all must change and know decay,

You are unchanging, always new.

You are man's solace and his shield,

His Rock secure on which to build.

You are the spirit's tranquil home,
In you alone is hope fulfilled.

To God the Father and the Son
And Holy Spirit render praise:
Blest Trinity, from age to age
The strength of all our living days.

Stanbrook Abbey Hymnal

Psalm 118 (119): 97-104 Meditating the word of the Lord in the Law

“This is the commandment that he has given us, that anyone who loves God must also love his brother”
(1 John 4:21)

Love is the fullness of the Law.

Lórd, how I love your láw! *

It is éver in my mínd.

Your commánd makes me wíser than my fóes; *
for it is míne for éver.

I have more ínsight than áll who téach me *
for I pónder your wíll.

I have móre understánding than the óld *
for I kéepr your précepts.

I turn my féet from évil páths *
to obéy your wórd.
I háve not túrned from your decreés; *
you yoursélf have táught me.

Your prómise is swéeter to my táste * than hóney in the móuth.
I gáin understánding from your précepts *
and so I háte the ways of fálsehood.

Glory be to the Father and to the Son
and to the Holy Spirit,
as it was in the beginning,
is now, and ever shall be,
world without end.

Amen.

Love is the fullness of the Law.

Psalm 73 (74):1-12
Lament over the ruined Temple

“Do not be afraid of those who kill the body”
(Mt 10:28).

Remember your people, Lord, whom you chose long ago.

Whý, O Gód, have you cást us off for éver? *
Whý blaze with ánger at the shéep of your pásture?

Remémber your péople whom you chóse long agó, †
the tríbe you redéemed to be your ówn posséssion, *
the móuntain of Síon where you máde your dwélling.

Turn your stéps to these pláces that are útterly rúined! *
The énemy has laid wáste the whóle of the sánctuary.
Your fóes have made úproar in your hóuse of práyer: †
they have sèt up their émbles, their fóreign
émbles, *
hígh abóve the éntrance to the sánctuary.

Their áxes have bátted the wóod of its dóors. *
They have strúck togéther with háchet and píckaxe.
O Gód, they have sèt your sánctuary on fíre: *
they have rázed and profáned the pláce where you dwéll.

They sáid in their héarts: ‘Let us útterly crúsh them: *
let us búrn every shríne of Gód in the lánd.’
There is no sígn from Gód, nor háve we a próphet, *
we have nó one to téll us how lóng it will lást.

How lóng, O Gód, is the énemy to scóff? *
Is the fóe to insúlt your náme for éver?
Whý, O Lórd, do you hólđ back your hánd? *
Whý do you kéept your ríght hand hídden?

Yet Gód is our kíng from tíme pást, *
the gíver of hélp through áll the lánd.

Glory be to the Father and to the Son
and to the Holy Spirit,

as it was in the beginning,
is now, and ever shall be,
world without end.

Amen.

Remember your people, Lord, whom you chose long ago.

Psalm 73 (74):13-23

Arise, O Lord, and defend your cause.

It was yóu who divíded the séa by your míght, *
who shátttered the héads of the mónsters in the séa.

It was yóu who crúshed Levíathan's héads *
and gáve him as fóod to the úntamed béasts.

It was yóu who ópened spríngs and tórrents; *
it was yóu who díed up éver-flowing rívers.

Yóurs is the dáy and yóurs is the níght. *

It was yóu who appóinted the líght and the sún:
it was yóu who fíxed the bóunds of the éarth: *
yóu who máde both súmmer and wínter.

Remémber this, Lórd, and see the énemy scóffing; *
a sénseless péople insúlts your náme.

Do not give Ísrael, your dóve, to the háwk *
nor forgét the lífe of your póor ones for éver.

Remémber your cóvenant; every cáve in the lánd * is a pláce where víolence mákes its hóme.

Do not lét the oppréssed retúrn disappóinted; *
let the póor and the néedy bléss your náme.

Aríse, O Gód, and defénd your cáuse! *
Remémber how the sénseless revíle you all the dáy.
Dó not forgét the clámour of your fóes, *
the dáily incréasing úproar of your fóes.

Glory be to the Father and to the Son
and to the Holy Spirit,
as it was in the beginning,
is now, and ever shall be,
world without end.

Amen.

Arise, O Lord, and defend your cause.

Scripture Reading

Deuteronomy 15:7-8

Is there a poor man among you, one of your brothers, in any town of yours in the land that the Lord your God is giving you? Do not harden your heart or close your hand against that poor brother of yours, but be open-handed with him and lend him enough for his needs.

℣. Lord, you have listened to the prayer of the poor.

℟. You will give ear to them and strengthen their hearts.

Let us pray.

Almighty God,

who revealed to Peter your plan for the salvation of all men,

grant that our work may be acceptable to you and that, by your grace, it may further your loving purpose of redemption.

Through Christ our Lord.

Amen.

Let us praise the Lord.

Hymn

Eternal Father, loving God,

Who made us from the dust of earth,

Transform us by the Spirit's grace,

Give value to our little worth.

Prepare us for that day of days

When Christ from heaven will come with might

To call us out of dust again,
Our bodies glorified in light.

O Godhead, here untouched, unseen,
All things created bear your trace;
The seed of glory sown in man
Will flower when we see your face.

OR: _____

At the daytime hours (Terce, Sext, None) when you don't choose to use the psalms of the day, use the complementary psalms instead.

COMPLEMENTARY PSALMS

Psalm 125 (126) Gladness and hope in the Lord

“Just as you are sharing in our sufferings, so also will you share our consolations” (2 Cor 1:7).

What marvels the Lord worked for us: indeed we are glad.

When the Lórd delivered Síon from bódage, *
it séemed like a dréam.

Thén was our móuth filled with láughter, *
on our líps there were sóngs.

The héathens themsélves said: ‘What márvels *
the Lórd worked for thém!’

What márvels the Lórd worked for ús! *
Indéed we were glád.

Delíver us, O Lórd, from our bódage *
as stréams in dry lánd.

Thóse who are sówing in téars *
will síng when they réap.

They go óut, they go óut, full of téars, *
cárrying séed for the sówing:
they come báck, they come báck, full of sóng, *
cárrying their shéaves.

Glory be to the Father and to the Son
and to the Holy Spirit,
as it was in the beginning,
is now, and ever shall be,
world without end.

Amen.

What marvels the Lord worked for us: indeed we are glad.

Psalm 126 (127)
Without the Lord, we labour in vain

“You are God’s building” (1 Cor 3:9).

The Lord will build the house for us; he will watch over our city.

If the Lórd does not búild the hóuse, *
in váin do its búilders lábour;
if the Lórd does not wáitch over the cíty, *
in váin does the wáitchman keep vígil.

In váin is your éarlier rísing, *
your góing láter to rést,
you who tóil for the bréad you éat, *
when he pours gífts on his belóved while they slúmber.

Truly sóns are a gíft from the Lórd, *
a bléssing, the frúit of the wómb.

~~~~~

Indéed the sóns of yóuth *
are like árrows in the hánd of a wárrior.
Ó the háppiness of the mán *
who has filled his quíver with these árrows!
Hé will have no cáuse for sháme *
when he dispútes with his fóes in the gátways.

Glory be to the Father and to the Son
and to the Holy Spirit,
as it was in the beginning,
is now, and ever shall be,
world without end.

Amen.

The Lord will build the house for us; he will watch over our city.

Psalm 127 (128)

Peaceful life in the Lord

“May the Lord bless you from Sion’, that is, from his Church” (Arnobius).

O blessed are those who fear the Lord.

O bléssed are thóse who fear the Lórd *
and wálk in his wáys!

By the lábour of your hánds you shall éat. *
You will be háppy and prósper;

your wife like a fruitful vine ✧
in the heart of your house;
your children like shoots of the olive, ✧ around your table.

Indeed thus shall be blessed ✧ the man who fears the Lord.
May the Lord bless you from Sion ✧
all the days of your life!
May you see your children's children ✧
in a happy Jerusalem!

On Israel, peace!

Glory be to the Father and to the Son
and to the Holy Spirit,
as it was in the beginning,
is now, and ever shall be,
world without end.

Amen.

O blessed are those who fear the Lord.

CONCLUSION

Scripture Reading

Proverbs 22:22-23

Because a man is poor, do not therefore cheat him, nor, at the city gate, oppress anybody in affliction; for the Lord takes up their cause, and extorts the life of their extortioners.

V. The Lord will save the needy, who are helpless.

R. He will save the lives of the poor.

Let us pray.

Almighty God,

we recall how you sent your angel to the centurion

Cornelius

to show him the way of salvation.

Open our hearts to work more zealously for the salvation of the world, so that your Church may bring us and all men into your presence.

Through Christ our Lord.

Amen.

Let us praise the Lord.

Vespers (Evening Prayer) 🎵

Introduction (without Invitatory)

If this is the first Hour that you are reciting today, use the version with the Invitatory Psalm instead.

O God, come to our aid.

O Lord, make haste to help us.

Glory be to the Father and to the Son

and to the Holy Spirit,

as it was in the beginning,

is now, and ever shall be,

world without end.

Amen. Alleluia.

Hymn

O God, Creator of the world,

And King of heaven, sending light

Most beautiful to clothe the day,

And grace of sleep to come by night.

That so in rest our slackened limbs

Grow strong for work as dawns the day,

And wearied minds be fresh again,
As light drives anxious care away.

With bounden thanks, with offered vows,
With prayers and hymns our debt we pay,
Beseeching thee to keep us safe
As night draws nigh, as ends the day.

Psalm 124 (125)
The Lord guards his people

“Peace to the Israel of God” (Gal 6:16).

The Lord surrounds his people.

Those who put their trust in the Lórd † are like Mount Sión, that cánnót be sháken, * that stánds for éver.

Jerúsalem! The móuntains surróund her, † so the Lórd surróunds his péople *
both nów and for éver.

For the scéptre of the wícked shall not rést *
over the lánd of the júst for féar that the hánds of the júst * should túrn to évil.

Do góod, Lord, to thóse who are góod, *
to the úpright of héart;

but the cróoked and thóse who do évil, *
drive them away!
On Ísrael, péace!

Glory be to the Father and to the Son
and to the Holy Spirit,
as it was in the beginning,
is now, and ever shall be,
world without end.
Amen.

The Lord surrounds his people.

Psalm 130 (131) Childlike trust in God

“Learn from me, for I am gentle and humble of heart”
(Mt 11:29).

Unless you become like little children you will not enter the kingdom of heaven.

O Lórd, my héart is not próud *
nor háughty my éyes.
I have not góne after things too gréat *
nor márvels beyónd me.
Trúly I have sét my sóul *
in sílence and péace.

A weaned child on its mother's breast, *
even so is my soul.

O Ísrael, hope in the Lórd *
both now and for ever.

Glory be to the Father and to the Son
and to the Holy Spirit,
as it was in the beginning,
is now, and ever shall be,
world without end.

Amen.

Unless you become like little children you will not enter the kingdom of heaven.

Canticle

Apocalypse 4,5

The song of the redeemed

Lord, you made us a kingdom and priests to serve our God.

Worthy are you, our Lord and God, *
to receive glory and honour and power,
for you created all things, *
and by your will they existed and were created.

Worthy are you, O Lord, *
to take the scroll and to open its seals,

for you were slain, †
and by your blood you ransomed men for God *
from every tribe and tongue and people and nation.

You have made us a kingdom and priests to our God, *
and we shall reign on earth.

Worthy is the Lamb who was slain *
to receive power and wealth and wisdom and might *
and honour and glory and blessing.

Glory be to the Father and to the Son
and to the Holy Spirit,
as it was in the beginning,
is now, and ever shall be,
world without end.

Amen.

Lord, you made us a kingdom and priests to serve our God.

Scripture Reading

Romans 12:9-12

Do not let your love be a pretence, but sincerely prefer good to evil. Love each other as much as brothers should, and have a profound respect for each other. Work for the Lord with untiring effort and with great earnestness of spirit. If you have hope, this will make you cheerful. Do not give up if trials come; and keep on praying.

Short Responsory

Your word, O Lord, will endure for ever.

— Your word, O Lord, will endure for ever.

Your truth will last from age to age.

— Your word, O Lord, will endure for ever.

Glory be to the Father and to the Son and to the Holy Spirit.

— Your word, O Lord, will endure for ever.

Canticle

Magnificat

My soul rejoices in the Lord

My spirit exults in the Lord God, my saviour.

My sóul glórifies the Lórd, *

my spírit rejóices in Gód, my Sáviour.

He lóoks on his sérvant in her lówliness; *

hencefóρθ all áges will cáll me bléssed.

The Almíghty works márvels for mé. *

Hóly his náme!

His mércy is from áge to áge, *

on thóse who féar him.

He púts forth his árm in stréngth *

and scátters the proud-héarted.

He cásts the míghty from their thrónes *

and ráises the lówly.

He fills the stárving with good thínks, *
sends the rích away éempty.

He protécts Ísrael, his sérvant, *
remémbering his mércy,
the mércy prómised to our fáthers, *
to Ábrahám and his sóns for éver.

Glory be to the Father and to the Son
and to the Holy Spirit,
as it was in the beginning,
is now, and ever shall be,
world without end.

Amen.

My spirit exults in the Lord God, my saviour.

Prayers and intercessions

God has established his people in hope. Nothing can break the confidence of those who love him. Let us proclaim:

— Father, our trust is in you.

We give you thanks, Lord God, for you have made man rich in all wisdom and insight.

— Father, our trust is in you.

Lord God, you know the hearts of all rulers:
May they work for the good of the people they govern.

— Father, our trust is in you.

Lord, you empower mankind to glorify this world with art:
make our work live with vision and true hope.

— Father, our trust is in you.

You do not allow us to be tempted beyond our limits:
strengthen the weak, raise up the fallen.

— Father, our trust is in you.

Father, you have promised men a share in your Son's resurrection on the last day:
remember those who have gone before us on the path to eternal life.

— Father, our trust is in you.

Our Father, who art in heaven,
hallowed be thy name.

Thy kingdom come.

Thy will be done on earth, as it is in heaven.

Give us this day our daily bread,

and forgive us our trespasses,

as we forgive those who trespass against us,

and lead us not into temptation,

but deliver us from evil.

Let our evening prayer rise up before your throne of mercy, Lord,

and let your blessing come down upon us,

so that now and for ever your grace may help and save us.

Through our Lord Jesus Christ, your Son, who lives and reigns with you in the unity of the Holy Spirit,
God, for ever and ever.

Amen.

The Lord bless us, and keep us from all evil, and bring us to everlasting life.

Amen.
